

Hair Growth Gummies

CAMPAIGN CONTEXT

This performance-driven script targets cold traffic through an advanced two-voice explainer framework. By shifting from high-impact problem agitation (shower drain clumps) to deep dual-creator mechanism authority, it seamlessly builds trust, contrasts generic competitor limits, and uses micro-case scaling stacks to push cold prospects into a high-urgency, 50% off discount conversion window.

Video Script Table

Time & Segment	Audio Script (Voiceover Copy)	Visuals & Text Overlays (TOS)
0:00 - 0:03 (Product Hook)	"...the only hair vitamin that actually stopped my shedding..."	• Visual: Extreme close-up macro shot looking down at the SugarbearPRO bottle sitting on a clean white bathroom counter. A hand reaches in and picks it up, revealing the teal label and bear logo clearly. A small circular PIP window appears top right, showing a woman speaking directly to the camera in a bathroom setting, hair down and visibly healthy. Punchy and immediate. • Text on Screen: Open captions appear in the bottom center.

0:03 - 0:06 (Problem Hook)	"...and if you have ever dreaded washing your hair..."	• Visual: Extreme close-up of a shower drain completely covered in tangled hair. The camera is perfectly still, straight down angle. Forces the viewer to sit with the discomfort of recognizing their own daily reality. No movement. Just the drain. • Text on Screen: Open captions continue.
0:06 - 0:09 (Pain Deepening)	"...or watched it come out in clumps every single morning..."	• Visual: Close-up of a woman's hand pulling her fingers slowly through wet hair. Several strands visibly wrap around her fingers. The expression on her face in the background is defeated and tired. Slightly low angle looking up. Fast cut. • Text on Screen: Open captions continue.
0:09 - 0:11 (Curiosity Bridge)	"...you need to see this."	• Visual: Whip cut to the creator in the PIP window, leaning slightly forward toward the camera, eyes wide, nodding with urgency. Then instant cut back to the product bottle on the counter. The bear gummy is placed beside it. One frame. Fast. • Text on Screen: Open captions continue.
0:11 - 0:15 (Magic Moment)	"...this completely transformed my hair in less than 6 weeks..."	• Visual: Medium shot, selfie-style camera looking slightly up at a woman sitting in front of a mirror. She holds up the SugarbearPRO bottle with one hand and runs her other hand through thick, shiny, visibly full hair. She looks genuinely shocked and proud. Nods slowly as she speaks. • Text on Screen: Open captions continue.
0:15 - 0:18 (Ease of Use)	"...and it is so simple, you just take one gummy a day..."	• Visual: Extreme close-up top-down shot of a woman's open palm. One single blue bear-shaped gummy sits in the center of her hand. Her nails are healthy and strong. Clean white background. The simplicity of one gummy does all the selling here. • Text on Screen: Open captions continue.
0:18 - 0:21 (Delight Frame)	"...it literally tastes like candy..."	• Visual: The hand raises the gummy up toward the mouth. Fast cut to the creator in the PIP window laughing genuinely, shaking her head in disbelief as if she cannot believe something this good actually works. Relatable and human. • Text on Screen: Open captions continue.

0:21 - 0:24 (Mechanism)	"...here is how the SmartRoot Complex works..."	• Visual: Sharp cut to a clean top-down shot of the SugarbearPRO bottle lying flat on a white surface. A hand taps the label twice. The circular PIP window switches to a second creator, a slightly older woman speaking with calm authority, establishing the two-voice explainer structure. • Text on Screen: Open captions continue.
0:24 - 0:28 (Science Step 1)	"...6000mcg of Biotin feeds your hair follicles from the inside..."	• Visual: Cut to a clean 3D animation on a dark background. A glowing teal follicle sits at the base of a hair strand. Small golden particles labeled "Biotin 6000mcg" flow downward and absorb into the follicle. The visual is simple, clear, and scientific without being overwhelming. • Text on Screen: A pill-shaped text bubble slides in reading "Pharmacist Formulated." Open captions continue.
0:28 - 0:32 (Science Step 2)	"...while MSM and Zinc strengthen the root and stop the breakage..."	• Visual: The 3D animation continues. The same follicle now shows the hair strand thickening and straightening as teal particles labeled "MSM" and "Zinc" wrap around the base like armor. Pacing slows for two seconds to let the science land. • Text on Screen: A second text bubble slides in underneath reading "Third Party Lab Tested." Open captions continue.
0:32 - 0:35 (Contrast)	"...and unlike regular biotin pills that do nothing on their own..."	• Visual: Fast cut to a close-up of a generic white biotin pill bottle, plain and unbranded, being pushed to the left side of the frame by a hand. The SugarbearPRO bottle slides in from the right and takes center frame. Clean, direct visual metaphor. No words needed beyond the voiceover. • Text on Screen: Open captions continue.
0:35 - 0:39 (Product Claims)	"...SugarbearPRO has 13 total actives working together as a complete system..."	• Visual: Cut to an overhead flat-lay shot. The SugarbearPRO bottle sits in the center. Around it, small teal cards are arranged in a circle, each one showing a single ingredient name. Biotin. MSM. Zinc. Inositol. Elderberry. B12. Vitamin D2. The camera slowly pushes in from above. • Text on Screen: A text overlay appears: "13 Total Actives." Open captions continue.

0:39 - 0:43 (Case Expansion)	"...it works for excessive shedding, weak roots, thin hair..."	• Visual: Fast rhythmic cuts. First: a close-up of a shower drain with barely any hair in it, a hand points to it with surprise. Second: close-up of a woman's hairline showing new baby hairs growing in, finger gently touches them. Third: a ponytail being held up, visibly thick and full. Each cut is one second or less. • Text on Screen: A stacking graphic slides in from the right with green checkmarks: "Stops Shedding." "Stronger Roots." "Fuller Hair."
0:43 - 0:46 (Bonus Hook)	"...and even makes your nails stronger, which I did not expect at all..."	• Visual: Cut to the second creator reappearing in a mid-shot, holding her hand up to the camera showing strong, healthy nails. She looks genuinely surprised and amused. This moment should feel unscripted and real. • Text on Screen: A fourth checkmark graphic stacks: "Stronger Nails." Open captions continue.
0:46 - 0:50 (Objection Stack)	"...no complicated routine, no prescription, no doctor visit..."	• Visual: Cut to the first creator outdoors, natural light, speaking directly to the camera in a friendly conversational tone. She shakes her head lightly as she lists each objection. Behind her, blurred greenery. Approachable and real. Then instant cut to a close-up of her simply dropping one gummy into her mouth with her morning coffee visible in the background. • Text on Screen: Open captions continue.
0:50 - 0:54 (Social Story)	"...and my boyfriend literally asked if I got extensions..."	• Visual: Medium shot of a woman sitting in a salon chair. A hairdresser stands behind her, visibly running her hands through her hair with an impressed expression, looking at it closely. The woman in the chair smiles at the camera in the mirror. No words needed. The scene tells the entire story. • Text on Screen: Open captions continue.
0:54 - 0:56 (Loyalty Signal)	"...I have been taking it every single day since..."	• Visual: Close-up of a bathroom shelf. Three SugarbearPRO bottles lined up in a row, all slightly used. A hand picks one up confidently. The visual communicates long-term trust and routine without saying it directly. • Text on Screen: Open captions continue.

0:56 - 1:00 (Avalanche Grid)	"...and so have over 50,000 women who refuse to stop..."	• Visual: Sudden high energy cut to a 3x3 grid layout showing 9 different women simultaneously. Each one is either holding the SugarbearPRO bottle, pointing at their hair, or showing a before and after. A large bold text overlay appears centered. • Text on Screen: "50,000 Customers" directly below five bright animated gold stars that pop onto the screen one by one.
1:00 - 1:04 (Authority Stack)	"...with a 4.9 star rating and a 100-day money-back guarantee..."	• Visual: Grid fades and cuts to a clean white frame. Three trust badges appear one after another in the center of the screen. First: five gold stars with "4.9 Rating." Second: a shield icon with "100 Day Guarantee." Third: a checkmark with "Vegan and Halal Certified." Each badge pops in with a subtle bounce animation. Voiceover is calm and confident. • Text on Screen: Open captions continue.
1:04 - 1:08 (Call To Action)	"...tap the link and get yours before this offer runs out."	• Visual: Cut back to the first creator in the bathroom, looking directly into the camera with a warm but urgent expression. She points downward toward the link. Video ends on this frame. Abrupt and intentional. • Text on Screen: A clean high contrast banner slides up from the bottom of the frame with bold white text on a teal background reading "50% OFF — Limited Stock."