

Hair Growth Gummies

CAMPAIGN CONTEXT

This direct-response script targets cold traffic by deploying an intergenerational trust mechanism, leveraging a daughter's relatable storytelling to document her 61-year-old mother's dramatic hair transformation. By refuting aging as an unfixable necessity and aggressively dismantling failed legacy solutions, it systematically removes friction hurdles while leveraging deep data stacks to drive cold conversions into secure, risk-free sales.

Video Script Table

Time & Segment	Audio Script (Voiceover Copy)	Visuals & Text Overlays (TOS)
0:00 - 0:04 (The Shock Hook)	"I am shocked my mom got her thick hair back at 61 with just one gummy a day."	• Visual: Medium close-up shot from behind an older woman, visibly 55 to 65 years old, with striking voluminous thick silver or blonde hair. She shakes her head vigorously from side to side, creating immediate fluid movement that showcases the shine, density, and health of her hair. At the end of the clip, she turns her head over her right shoulder and smiles warmly and proudly directly at the camera. This must be a real woman in this age range. Not an actress who looks 40. Pacing is energetic and immediate.

		• Text on Screen: Solid black rounded rectangle caption box centered at top of screen with bold white text reading "I am shocked my mom got her thick hair back at 61 with just one gummy a day." A small circular rewind icon sits just above the caption box. Fine white disclaimer text at the very bottom center.
0:04 - 0:08 (Product Split)	"She takes one SugarbearPRO gummy every single morning."	• Visual: Screen splits vertically into two equal halves. Left side: tight macro close-up of a well-manicured hand holding up one single blue bear-shaped SugarbearPRO gummy between thumb and index finger. The teal color is vivid and distinctive. In the blurred background, the SugarbearPRO bottle is partially visible. Right side: high-angle close-up from behind the same older woman as she walks through a bright, naturally lit space, her thick, healthy hair flowing naturally down her back. • Text on Screen: Native style black caption box spanning both halves reads "She takes one SugarbearPRO gummy every single morning."
0:08 - 0:10 (Emphasis Beat)	"Just one."	• Visual: Close-up shot, eye level. The daughter smiles directly into the lens while holding the single blue bear gummy between her thumb and index finger right in front of her face. She holds up one finger with her other hand simultaneously. The gum looks almost like candy. Disarming and simple. One second pause after speaking lets the simplicity land. • Text on Screen: Caption box updates to large bold text "Just one." Largest font used in the video so far.
0:10 - 0:15 (Authority Stack)	"It has 6000mcg Biotin plus the SmartRoot Complex, which means 13 total actives all feeding her hair from the inside out."	• Visual: Cut to a clean overhead flat-lay shot. SugarbearPRO bottle centered on a white surface. Small teal ingredient cards are arranged in a circle around the bottle. The camera slowly pushes in from above. A pharmacist-formulated badge slides in from the left. The daughter reappears briefly in a small PIP window, top right nodding with confident authority.

		• Text on Screen: Bold centered text overlay appears: "13 Total Actives." Caption box reads "13 total actives feeding her hair from the inside out."
0:15 - 0:18 (The Before Reveal)	"This is what her hair looked like before."	• Visual: Abrupt cut to a photo or short clip of the mother's hair at its worst. Visibly thin, flat, sparse at the temples and part line. She is looking at herself in a bathroom mirror with a resigned, defeated expression. The clip feels raw and real, not dramatized. • Text on Screen: Caption box updates to "this is what her hair looked like before." A solid black label appears in the top left corner, reading "BEFORE."
0:18 - 0:21 (Pain Deepening)	"She had been losing it for years."	• Visual: Close-up of the same mirror shot but tighter on the part line. A finger traces the visible scalp. The emotional weight of years of quiet frustration is communicated entirely through the visual. No movement. Just the part line and the silence. • Text on Screen: Caption box reads "she had been losing it for years."
0:21 - 0:24 (Montage of Failure)	"She tried oils. She tried biotin pills. She tried expensive shampoos."	• Visual: Three lightning-fast cuts each under half a second. Cut 1: a bottle of castor oil is being set aside. Cut 2: a plain generic biotin pill bottle being pushed off frame. Cut 3: a row of expensive shampoo bottles on a shelf with a hand sweeping past them dismissively. Each item represents a failed attempt your customer has personally made. • Text on Screen: Caption box rapidly changes to match each cut: "oils." "biotin pills." "expensive shampoos."
0:24 - 0:26 (Validation Beat)	"Nothing worked."	• Visual: Fast cut back to the mother at the mirror, same defeated expression as before. She shakes her head slowly. One full second of stillness. This is the moment every woman watching recognizes herself and feels seen. • Text on Screen: Caption box reads "nothing worked." Simple. Final. Heavy.

0:26 - 0:29 (The Pivot)	"Then I found SugarbearPRO for her."	• Visual: Cut to the daughter speaking directly to the camera, bright, naturally lit environment, warm and conspiratorial tone. She leans slightly toward the lens as if sharing a secret with a friend. Behind her, blurred greenery or a clean, bright interior. • Text on Screen: Caption box updates to "then I found SugarbearPRO for her."
0:29 - 0:33 (Authority Pivot)	"In as little as 42 days, verified by a USA consumer study."	• Visual: Quick cut to a clean white frame. A teal checkmark badge animates in centered on screen, reading "Verified by USA Consumer Study" and below it "90% saw positive results in 6 weeks." Stays for exactly one second. Then snap cut back to the daughter. • Text on Screen: Caption box reads "42 days. verified by a USA consumer study."
0:33 - 0:35 (The Setup)	"And here is what her hair looks like now."	• Visual: The daughter pauses and looks to the side of the frame with a wide smile, gesturing toward someone off camera. Building anticipation for the reveal. One second of pure tension before the cut. • Text on Screen: Caption box reads "Here is what her hair looks like now."
0:35 - 0:37 (The After Reveal)	"Mom. Show them."	• Visual: Instant cut to medium shot from behind the mother. She shakes her head vigorously from side to side, the same movement as the opening hook, but this time the hair is visibly transformed. Thick. Full. Healthy. Catching the light. She then turns slowly toward the camera, smiling with the quiet pride of a woman who got her hair back after years of losing it. • Text on Screen: Caption box reads "mom. show them."
0:37 - 0:41 (Social Punchline)	"People think she is wearing a wig."	• Visual: Close-up of the mother's face as she laughs genuinely at this comment. She runs both hands through her thick hair to prove it is completely real. The laugh is unscripted and warm. The most human and believable moment in the entire video. • Text on Screen: Caption box reads "people think she is wearing a wig."

0:41 - 0:43 (Silence Shift)	"She is not."	• Visual: The mother shakes her head, still smiling. One second of silence after the line. Same structural beat as the "I didn't" moment in the Hers framework. Let the silence do the work. • Text on Screen: Caption box reads "she is not" in the largest font in the video.
0:43 - 0:47 (The Salon Story)	"Her hairdresser literally asked what she was doing differently."	• Visual: Cut to a medium shot of the mother sitting in a salon chair. A hairdresser stands behind her with both hands in her hair, visibly impressed, examining the thickness and health up close. The mother smiles at the camera through the salon mirror. Shot in a real salon, not a set. • Text on Screen: Caption box reads "her hairdresser asked what she was doing differently."
0:47 - 0:51 (Side Benefit)	"And her nails got stronger, too. She did not even expect that."	• Visual: Cut to a close-up of the mother's hands, nails visibly healthy and strong. She holds them up to the camera with a surprised and delighted expression. The daughter reappears briefly in a PIP window, laughing and nodding. • Text on Screen: Caption box reads "her nails got stronger too. She did not expect that."
0:51 - 0:56 (Friction Removal)	"No complicated routine, prescription, or even a doctor visit. She just takes one gummy day."	• Visual: Cut to a close-up of the mother's bathroom counter in the morning. Clean and simple. A coffee mug on the left. The SugarbearPRO bottle on the right. The mother's hand reaches into the frame, opens the bottle, drops one blue bear gummy into her palm, and takes it with her coffee. The entire routine takes three seconds. • Text on Screen: Caption box rapidly lists each friction point removed: "no complicated routine." "No prescription." "No doctor visit." "Just one gummy."
0:56 - 0:59 (Delight Frame)	"It even tastes like candy, so she never forgets to take it."	• Visual: Tight close-up of the mother's face as she chews the gummy. Her expression shifts to genuine surprised delight. She looks at the camera and shakes her head slowly as if she still cannot believe it. Real and completely unscripted in feeling.

		• Text on Screen: Caption box reads "tastes like candy so she never forgets."
0:59 - 1:03 (Values Stack)	"Vegan. Halal certified. Made for women who refused to accept hair loss."	• Visual: Clean flat-lay close-up of the SugarbearPRO bottle with three small certification badges arranged beside it. Vegan certified. Halal certified. A third badge reads "For Women Who Refuse to Accept Hair Loss." Camera pushes in slowly. • Text on Screen: Caption box lists each value as it appears on screen.
1:03 - 1:08 (The Avalanche Grid)	"Join 50,000 women who got their hair back."	• Visual: High energy, fast cut to a 3x3 grid of 9 different women simultaneously. Critically, at least three of the nine women must be visibly over 50. Mix of ethnicities and hair types. Each woman is either holding the SugarbearPRO bottle, running her hands through visibly fuller hair, or showing a before-and-after. A fast radial zoom transition punches through the center frame. Five gold animated stars pop in one by one beneath it. • Text on Screen: Large bold centered text overlay: "50,000 women got their hair back."
1:08 - 1:12 (Risk Reversal Stack)	"4.9 stars. 100-day money-back guarantee. If it does not work, you pay nothing."	• Visual: Grid fades instantly to a clean white frame. Three trust badges pop in with subtle bounce animations one by one. First: five gold stars with "4.9 Rating." Second: teal shield "100 Day Money Back Guarantee." Third: teal checkmark "Vegan and Halal Certified." Voiceover calm, unhurried, completely confident. • Text on Screen: Caption box lists each credential as it appears.
1:12 - 1:15 (Emotional Close)	"My mom wishes she had found this years ago."	• Visual: Cut back to the daughter speaking directly to the camera. Her tone shifts from enthusiastic to genuinely warm and slightly emotional. She glances off camera toward her mother with a soft, proud smile. This human moment of daughter and mother is your highest trust frame in the entire video. • Text on Screen: Caption box reads "My mom wishes she had found this years ago."

1:15 - 1:20 (Recapitulation Montage)	"So if your hair is thinning, your ponytail is getting smaller, or you have just accepted it as part of aging..."	• Visual: Lightning fast montage. Cut 1: close-up of a thin ponytail being held up. Cut 2: woman staring at her part line in a mirror. Cut 3: hair-covered shower drain. Cut 4: older woman pulling hair back into a bun to hide thinning. Each cut is under one second. Raw and real. • Text on Screen: Multi-cut caption boxes match each visual. "ponytail getting smaller." "accepted it as part of aging."
1:20 - 1:24 (Call To Action)	"Do not accept it. Tap below and start your transformation today."	• Visual: Cut to a clean minimalist graphic screen. Soft gradient background from white to teal. Center frame: the SugarbearPRO bottle and one blue bear gummy in a clean product display. Bold brand text "SugarbearPRO" at top. Animated action button below reading "Start Risk-Free Today" with right-pointing arrow. Trust badges remain at the bottom of the frame. • Text on Screen: Caption box reads "tap below and start your 100-day risk-free transformation."
1:24 - 1:27 (Final Retention Close)	"You will be shocked at what one gummy a day does for your hair."	• Visual: Snap cut back to the mother from behind, shaking her thick, full hair one final time in slow motion. She turns to the camera, smiling. The daughter steps into frame beside her, puts her arm around her mother, both looking at the camera. The SugarbearPRO bottle sits on a surface in the foreground between them and the camera. Video ends abruptly on this frame. • Text on Screen: "shocked at what one gummy a day does for your hair."
