This is a 3-email abandoned cart recovery sequence for the "Ultimate Fit Jumps Instructor Training".

It targets fitness professionals who showed interest but didn't complete their purchase, using escalating urgency and scarcity tactics over 48 hours.

The goal is to recover lost sales by positioning the certification as an exclusive, time-sensitive career opportunity.

Hey {{first_name}},

My records show that you haven't completed your purchase for the Ultimate Fit Jumps Instructor Training in Los Angeles.

I know life gets busy, and this is by no means a "pesky nag."

However, it would be dishonest of me not to remind you of what you've already expressed interest in...

Especially since you're the type of people who are passionate about transforming lives through fitness and ready to take their career to the next level...

When you join us on August 23-24:

- Your clients will see faster fat burn results (25% more calories per session means they hit their goals quicker)
- You'll finally have classes that are packed because people actually enjoy low-impact workouts that don't hurt their joints
- Master trainers Cristina, Raj & Sarah will personally certify you (they rarely teach together like this)
- You'll join a tight-knit community of instructors who support each other's success

- Your clients' energy will skyrocket as you help activate their lymphatic systems naturally

My team tells me I can reserve your cart for 2 more days, purely to keep capacity limited at our Alchemy Fit Lab venue...

So if you truly want to become part of an elite group of certified instructors leading the rebound fitness revolution...

And you want to wake up excited to teach classes that your clients actually love attending...

Here's a link reserved only for you to get back to your cart and finish your order.

Note: This link is only available for the next 48 hours; after that, it's gone to make room for other fitness professionals on our waitlist. I'm sure you can understand!

See you inside.

SL: Last 24 hours to secure your certification

Hey {{first_name}}, tomorrow is your last chance

I wanted to quickly remind you what you're getting when you secure your spot for the Ultimate Fit Jumps Instructor Training:

- Personal certification from master trainers who rarely teach together
- The skills to help clients burn 25% more calories (they'll thank you for faster results)
- Low-impact methods that keep your classes full and your clients' joints happy
- Access to an exclusive instructor network that supports your success

I'm not just creating urgency for the sake of it.

Because Cristina, Raj, and Sarah have packed schedules. Getting all three of them together for a certification weekend like this won't happen again until late 2026.

And honestly?

The fitness industry is changing fast.

You can either stay ahead of this trend or watch other instructors in your area offer what your clients are starting to demand.

Your spot is still reserved, but only until tomorrow.

EMAIL 3:

SL: {{first_name}}, final hours + 10% off

Hey {{first_name}}, today is your final chance.

I talked with my team, and I told them to give you a 10% discount on the Ultimate Fit Jumps Instructor Training as a final incentive if you join us today.

If not, the discount alongside your cart will be gone.

And I wouldn't want that, so this is a gentle nudge and a final reminder if you're interested in transforming your fitness career with this exclusive certification.
