SL: {{first_name}}, your family's future depends on this...

Hi {{first_name}},

At yesterday's webinar, we uncovered a harsh reality: too many Texas families face costly probate, bitter disputes, and endless delays.

All because they don't have the right plan in place.

Most either skip estate planning altogether or rely on quick online forms that seem fine until it's too late.

That's how families end up trapped in probate court for months or even years, losing $10,000 to $15,000 from the inheritance meant for their kids and grandkids.

Even worse, they watch a lifetime of hard work unravel in costly legal battles, while their loved ones suffer the consequences.

But it doesn't have to be that way for your family.

With a custom plan tailored to your unique situation, you can protect everything you've built and make sure it goes directly to those you love.

That's why I'm offering you a free, no-obligation call to help you get it right.

This isn't a sales pitch.

After this session, you will walk with:

- A clear understanding of what could put your family at risk of probate, unnecessary fees, or legal delays.
- A personalized roadmap to make sure your assets go directly to the people you love, without confusion or court interference.
- Peace of mind knowing exactly what steps to take next to protect your home, savings, and family legacy.

All for FREE!

By the end of the call, you'll have a clear plan of action to safeguard your family's future, whether you want to work with us or walk away with your action plan.

No catch or commitment whatsoever.

SL: How one family lost $16,500 to probate...

PV: And another paid just $1,200 to settle everything

Hi {{first_name}},

Last summer in Fort Worth, Sharon Lewis lost her husband Tom to a sudden heart attack at just 62.

They had talked about getting their affairs in order many times, but life was busy, and it always seemed like something they could handle later.

Without a proper plan, Sharon and her two daughters spent over fourteen painful months tied up in probate court.

They paid more than $16,500 in legal fees alone, not counting countless hours away from work and family.

Sharon told me how she would sit alone on a hard courtroom bench, wishing she could just be at home grieving in peace.

Even now, there are strained relationships among her children because of how everything was divided.

It's something that still weighs heavily on her to this day.

Just a few months later, in San Antonio, David Martinez lost his father, Manuel, after a long illness.

But years before, Manuel had worked with us to put a clear estate plan in place.

Within six weeks of his passing, everything was settled.

The total cost came to under $1,200 in simple filing fees, with no court battles or family disputes.

David told me it was like having a heavy door quietly closed behind them so the family could gather, share stories, and start to heal without any added burdens.

The only real difference between these two families was one simple decision made ahead of time.

That's why I'm inviting you to book a free, no-obligation call.

We'll look at your current situation (or help you build from scratch if you have nothing in place), uncover any hidden risks, and create a clear, personalized plan so your loved ones are protected.

Reserve your free session before our calendar fills up.

Protect your family from the heartache so many others endure.

SL: Why families wait, and why that can cost them dearly

Hi {{first_name}},

I've spoken with so many Texas families over the years, and I can't tell you how often I hear the same reasons for putting off estate planning.

"We still have time."

"Life is hectic right now. We'll do it when things slow down."

"It feels uncomfortable to even think about."

I understand every one of those reasons.

Truly, I do.

It's human nature to avoid planning for something we hope is far off.

But estate planning isn't really about you.

It's about sparing your family from stress, painful court battles, and thousands in unnecessary fees if something happens unexpectedly.

It's about making sure your children aren't left sorting through paperwork and fighting with the courts at the very moment they're trying to grieve and hold each other close.

That's exactly why I'm still offering you a completely free call.

In this session, we'll review your current plan (or build one from scratch if you don't have one), uncover any hidden risks, and create a clear, customized roadmap to protect everything you've worked so hard for.

There's absolutely no cost.

These free sessions are filling quickly, and I'd hate for you to miss your chance to secure your family's future.

Reserve your spot today before our calendar closes.
